Board of Education

The organization behind the running of any school is its school board. The local board has put in long hours and much thought in the affairs of Pettisville Schools. In the January meeting, Mr. Dale Beck was re-elected president. Mr. Donald Liechty succeeded Mr. Earl Weber as vice-president. Mrs. Miriam Ray continues as clerk. Other active members are Mr. Paul Smith and Mr. Orville Rupp.

ADMINISTRATION GUIDES STUDENTS

Board of Education

The members of the board and acting executive head, Mr. Howard Pfost, chat while waiting for the Commencement processional to begin.

Office Secretaries

Mrs. Georgia Rupp was the general office secretary. Mrs. Hazel Rychener, assistant secretary, replaced Mrs. Rupp on Wednesdays.

Leland L. Dimon
Executive Head

Mr. Leland L. Dimon succeeded Mr. James Wright, who resigned at the close of last year, as executive head of the Pettisville schools. Mr. Dimon also resigned his position on the first of April. Mr. Howard Pfost, county superintendent, served as acting head until the end of the school year.

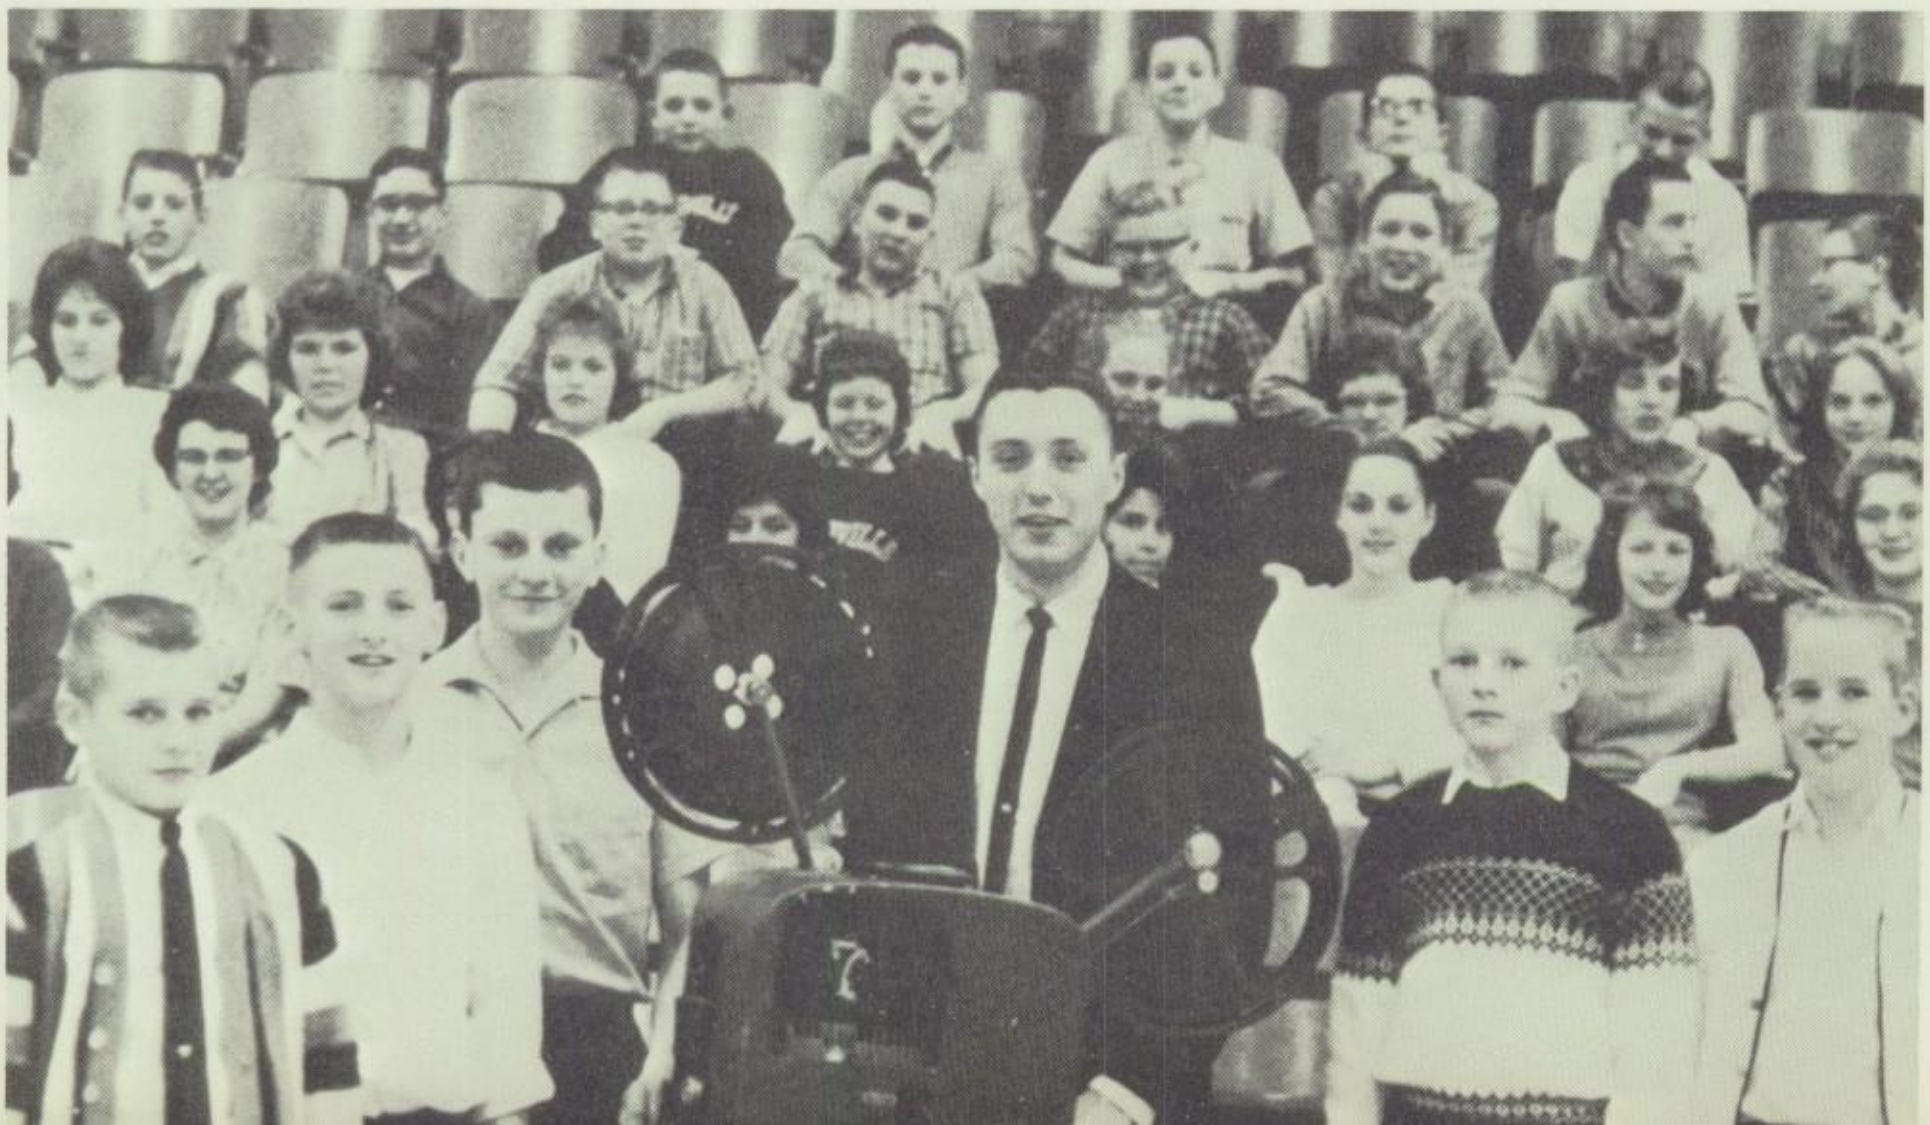
Principal Mark Ray's office was moved downstairs into the former workroom at the beginning of this year. Mrs. Miriam Ray became her husband's personal secretary after having served in the general office for many years.

Mr. Ray, in addition to serving as high school principal, taught American democracy for the first time. He also continued his duties as athletic director, adviser of the Boosters, and adviser of the Honor Society.

Faculty

Mr. Thomas Waters began his teaching career here but cut it short early in March to become a Marine aviator. He taught seventh and eighth grade math, general business, and sixth grade physical education. He was also eighth grade sponsor. He is shown with the class at a farewell party.

Jerry Huber, Merle Berkshire, Larry Schultz, Mr. Waters, David Emmons, Bob First.



Miss Ruth K. Wyse, Mrs. Genevive Eicher, Miss Loretta Rupp, and Mrs. Thelma Rychener look at new books in the library.

Miss Wyse taught Latin I and II, English II, and journalism. She was also Board of Publications and Lariat adviser.

Mrs. Eicher came the last semester to take over the position of librarian. She followed Miss Janice Nafziger, who served after Miss Smith's injury until she returned to Goshen College.

Miss Rupp, a graduate of Pettisville, came this year to teach seventh and eighth grade English and world history. She was a sponsor of the Boosters.

Mrs. Rychener taught freshman, sophomore, and senior English and speech. She directed the senior class play, and also was senior class sponsor.

Miss Smith was in charge of the library until she broke her arm in November. The library was moved into a downstairs classroom this year.

Miss Cosby L. Smith

Mr. Minner taught vocational agriculture and was adviser of FFA. He will do 4-H work in Michigan next year.

Mr. Kruse taught industrial arts. He also was seventh grade sponsor.

Mr. William Minner and Mr. James Kruse examine a drill in the industrial arts room.

Miss Grace Cron, Mrs. Rosemary Lind, Mrs. Geraldine Hoit, and Mrs. Roberta Mayer look at the basketball posters during the poster contest.

Miss Cron taught all music for the fifth year. She was also freshman sponsor.

Mrs. Lind came this year as home economics teacher. In addition she was FHA adviser.

Mrs. Hoit had commercial subjects for the second year. She resigned at the end of the year to go to a junior college in Kentucky.

Mrs. Meyer taught seventh grade Ohio history, eighth grade math, freshman health, and girls' physical education. She was also sponsor of the newly formed GAA and of the junior class.

Mr. Miller was again head basketball coach and guidance counselor. He taught health, guidance and civics, physical education, and world geography. In summer he had a drivers' education class.

Mr. Selgo taught seventh grade geography, eighth grade history, and physical education. He was the sponsor of the sophomore class, baseball coach, and assistant basketball coach. This was his first year here.

Mr. Dencil Miller and Mr. Richard Selgo admire the basketball trophies.

Mr. Arthur Grafton, Mr. Danford Sander, Mr. Vernon Yoder, and Mr. Winfield Jones chat about common interests in the physics laboratory.

Miss Sadie Miller, Mrs. Esther Henschen, Miss Alta Spiess, and Mrs. Mildred Rychener look over the art work of the fifth grade.

Mrs. Lindley taught one section of the first grade.

Mrs. Porter taught both morning and afternoon sections of kindergarten. She also conducted an English class two evenings a week for Spanish-speaking people of the community.

OPPOSITE PAGE, TOP. Mr. Grafton replaced Mr. Thomas Waters as the teacher of seventh and eighth grade Math, general business, and sixth grade physical education and as eighth grade sponsor.

Mr. Sander taught algebra I and II, senior high math, and eighth grade science. He was also FTA adviser.

Mr. Yoder had one section of sixth grade and Spanish I and II. Various teachers taught his grade while he was in Spanish.

Mr. Jones was again science teacher. He taught all high school science and was sponsor of the science and photography clubs.

Mrs. Florence Lindley and Mrs. Florence Porter pose in front of Mrs. Porter's classroom door.

A new teacher, Mrs. Short, taught fifth grade. She resigned at the end of the year to become a full-time homemaker.

Miss Sauder, a second grade teacher, also resigned to prepare for foreign teaching.

Mrs. Cooley again taught one section of fourth grade. This was her third year here.

OPPOSITE PAGE, BOTTOM. Miss Miller taught one section of the fourth grade. Mrs. Henschen was one of the sixth grade teachers. Miss Spiess had the special class again this year. Mrs. Rychener taught part of the fifth grade.

Mrs. Phyllis Short, Miss Joan Sauder, and Mrs. Vera Cooley admire the plants in the lobby planter.

Miss Barbara Lamp, Mrs. Dorothy Holland, Mrs. Alice Geiger, and Mrs. Helen Springer stop chatting for a minute to have their picture taken.

Mrs. Allen was just one of the many substitute teachers this year. Several others who taught quite often were Mr. John Miller, Mr. T. L. Parker, and Rev. Noel Whitus. Miss Shirley Murry substituted in the library for six weeks. Rev. Charles Kauffman often took over study hall so the regular teachers could substitute.

Mrs. Laura Allen sits at the desk of one of the teachers she substituted for.

Miss Lamp, a new teacher, taught one section of the third grade. She resigned in the spring to teach nearer to where she and her future husband will live.

Mrs. Holland taught one section of the second grade for the eighth year.

Mrs. Geiger has taught for five years but this has been her first year here. She had one section of the third grade.

Mrs. Springer taught one section of first grade. She has been teaching here full-time since 1957. Previously she taught music and was a substitute.

Playground Scene

Everyone in the elementary grades and the special class looked forward to recess. It was an important part of the day, because it gave the children a chance to exercise tired muscles, and to learn to co-operate with others.

The kindergarten and special class had their recesses alone. The first three grades shared the playground, as did grades four, five, and six.

The kindergarten children enjoyed their first year of school under the guidance of Mrs. Florence Porter. Among other things they learned to count, to print their names, and the art of tying bows and buttoning buttons. A highlight of the year was a visit to Sigg's hatchery where they saw eggs in the incubator and newly hatched chicks. The children also enjoyed decorating their Christmas tree.

The first grade had many new experiences this year. This was the first time they attended school whole days and had lunch in the cafeteria. A new world was opened to them through the books they learned to read. They enjoyed the treats brought by the children on their birthdays. Also they had a Christmas party, Mrs. Helen Springer taught this section.

SEVENTH ROW: John DeWit, Betty Estrada, Julie Short. ABSENT: Mike Armstrong, Judy Schnitkey, David Rodriguez.

Mrs. Mildred Rychener's fifth graders eagerly looked forward to their art classes. They made many objects with meanings to them, such as Good Appetite Gil from good foods and Bad Appetite Bert from bad foods. Another time they "scribbled" on white paper and then painted the designs. For Valentine's Day, they wove paper hearts for their mothers and other valentines with red construction paper and lace hearts. They also drew pictures of various ways of communication.

Mrs. Rychener taught art to all the fifth graders. Mrs. Short taught all fifth grade science and health.

CLOCKWISE: Albert Case, Joan Double, John Seiple, Barbara Johnson, Lydia Abrigo.

Three girls and thirteen boys received special tutoring from Miss Alta Spiess. These boys and girls came from miles around. The year was highlighted by a trip to the Toledo Zoo under the guidance of Miss Spiess and several FTA students.

Class Heads and Sponsors

Out-of-class activities play an important role in the lives of high school students. Good class presidents and class advisers are vital to making that part of the life of the school function smoothly. The efficient class heads and their sponsors are pictured on the opposite page.

Lonnie Rychener, Mr. James Kruse, seventh grade; Bart Jones, Mr. Arthur Grafton, eighth grade; Rachel Nafziger, Miss Grace Cron, freshmen; Santos Rodriguez, Mr. Richard Selgo, sophomores; Marlin Nofziger, Mrs. Roberta Mayer, juniors; Paul Frey, Mrs. Thelma Rychener, seniors.

THIRD ROW: Ramiro Estrada, Roger Moden, Edward Waidelich, Kathy Dunning, Lena Ramos, Judy Rufenacht.

Seventh Grade

Fifty-one students entered junior high school in 1963. The seventh graders faced a real challenge in their first year of junior high. They also enjoyed class parties and a field trip to Fort Meigs in Toledo.

The girls of one of the intramural teams did exceptionally well playing basketball. They won the tournament championship over the eighth and ninth grade teams.

The president of the seventh grade class was Lonnie Rychener. He was aided by Randy King, vice-president; Jeanne Nofziger, secretary and Donna Genter, treasurer.

Eighth Grade

Bart Jones was president of this year's eighth grade. He was assisted by Bob First, vice-president; Jane D. Rupp, secretary; and Luana Wyse, treasurer. Mr. Tom Waters was chosen as sponsor of the class. When he left, Mr. Arthur Grafton took over this responsibility.

The eighth grade greatly enjoyed the annual trip to Greenfield Village in the spring.

The freshman class in one sense began their first year of high school. For the first time these students faced a choice of subjects, which proved to be challenging. Each freshman managed to find time for social life and parties even though there always seemed to be plenty of work to do.

This group was headed by Rachel Nafziger as president; Bob Wagler, vice-president; Karen Stuckey, secretary; and Kathy Grieser, treasurer.

Dale Schroeder, Jerry Nofziger, Joe Nafziger, Kenton Detter, Jim King, Tom Short, and Walter Sigg played on the championship team.

The freshman intramural team won the championship by defeating the eighth grade 13-12. The first game played by the eighth and ninth grades was a loss for the freshmen by one point, but because of double elimination the game was played over.

The champs defeated the seventh grade 26-4, in their second game.

Freshman Class

The Latin II class gave the play "The Bulla" to the Latin I class first in Latin, then in English.

The Latin I class decorated the stage, which was supposed to represent the front of a temple in Paestum, an ancient Roman town. This class also prepared the refreshments for the evening.

FIFTH ROW: Gloria Trejo, Anna Belle King, Mary Keller, Kristen Lantz. SIXTH ROW: Charlene Rupp, Esther Baer, Rosemary Augustine, Linda Miller.

Santos Rodriguez was president of the sophomore class. Larry Rupp served as vice-president. Mike Rychener was secretary and Kris Lantz was treasurer.

As a world history project, the class went to the Toledo Museum of Art in February to see the treasures of Versailles. The class sponsor was Mr. Richard Selgo.

Mike Rychener placed eighth in the algebra II state scholarship tests and Jerry Frey placed tenth in the state.

Esther Baer played the part of Aelia in the English version of the play given by the Latin II class to the Latin I class. Laneis, a slave, was played by Dorothy Andre. George Liechty was Fronto, Aelia's father. Thoa and Damyx, Mary Jane Pfund and Kris Lantz, were thieves who tried to kidnap Aelia.

In the Latin version of the same play, Mike Rychener was Aelia. His slave was Jerry Frey; his father, Larry Rupp. John Nofziger and John Harman were the thieves.

The junior class had the usual numerous activities of the next-to-the-last year of high school. The play and junior-senior banquet, both directed by the class sponsor, Mrs. Roberta Mayer, were the most important ones.

Three Coins in a Fountain was the theme of the banquet given in honor of the seniors on May 18.

The juniors gave the play, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer, on April 19. The lead part of Tom Sawyer was played by Verlyn Nofziger.

As an American history project, the class spent a day at Put-in-Bay in May.

The boys of this class won the senior high intramural basketball championship, an unusual feat, since the seniors usually win this honor.

Junior-Senior Banquet

Terry Nofziger and Mary Helen Liechty receive their appetizer at the junior-senior banquet, the annual affair given by the juniors for the seniors, from John Nofziger and Sue Ann Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. David Springer, Mr. and Mrs. Dencil Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Selgo enjoy a number played by the International Trio, which furnished suitable music for the banquet.

Allen Nofziger, Phil Rychener, Joyce Graber, and Becky Nofziger admire the decorations which set the theme for the banquet: Three Coins in a Fountain.

Mrs. Roberta Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. William Minner, Phil Huffman, Donna Pfund, and Mr. Harold Mayer enjoy the banquet. Mr. Mayer acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Enjoying the meal are Miss Loretta Rupp, Miss Joan Sauder, Miss Ruth K. Wyse, Miss Barbara Lamp, and Mr. Marvin Brubaker.

Mrs. Howard Pfost, Mrs. Miriam Ray, Mr. James Hoit, Mr. Mark Ray, Mrs. Geraldine Hoit, and Mr. Howard Pfost pause to have their picture taken.

Mr. Winfield Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Danford Sander, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rychener, and Mrs. Jones made up one of the faculty tables that formed a typical grouping at the banquet.

Waiting for the main course of the meal are Miss Sadie Miller, Miss Cosby Smith, Miss Janet Nafziger, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Yoder, and Miss Alta Spiess.

Alan Rupp, Evi Leitner, Glora Belle Rychener, Ernest Disbrow, Diane Seiler, and Duane Short wait for the main course of the meal.

Lillie Grieser, Dallas Rychener, Stanley Nafziger, and Janet Beck chat as they wait to be served. Don Kauffman and Gene Frey are in the back ground.

Pam Rupp, Duane Sauder, Sherry Schnitkey, Judy Schmitz, Jim Sauder, and Carl Ayers all have an expectant look for the food to be brought to them.

Roger Bunke, Max Weber, and Sandy Steckschulte seem to think that what Janet Hettesheimer has said is funny.

Jerry Avina, Sharon Brown, and Pete Rodriguez have a satisfied air after having done justice to the food they have just finished eating.

Marlin Nofziger, Doreen Lantz, Carlos Grieser, Vicki Blair, Ruth Ann Nafziger, Byron Dimon, Mary Helen Liechty, and Terry Nofziger enjoy the banquet.

Adventures of Tom Sawyer

The Adventures of Tom Sawyer was given by the junior class in the spring. It was directed by Mrs. Roberta Mayer, the class sponsor.

The play contained incidents from the book of the same name by Mark Twain. Action centered around Tom Sawyer, who enjoyed plaguing his Aunt Polly. Tom and Becky Thatcher at one time were lost in a cave for three days. Tom, Huck Finn, and Joe Harper were better-than-ordinary people, for they were fortunate enough to attend their own funeral.

It's Great to Be Crazy

The senior class gave their farce, "It's Great To Be Crazy," early in November. Their class sponsor, Mrs. Thelma Rychener, directed the production.

The hilarity of the play arose from the startling facts revealed during the tracing of the family tree of the Maxwells. The consternation of the family was increased by son Wilbur and his friend Hercules taking advantage of the opportunity to cause strange things to happen in the house.

In addition, two crooks, Lester the Leech and Stern Face Stella added their bit to the situation.

Marlin Klopfenstein, as Grover, seems to hesitate before asking Connie, Becky Nofziger, for a date. Connie's younger brother, Wilbur, Art Ray, doesn't help the situation any.

Miriam Baer as Aunt Mary is terrified as Rosie Short, the maid, walks in her sleep.

Connie urges Wilbur to pick up his toys but he is in no hurry to do so.

Lynn Rupp is pleased to meet Joyce Graber, a high-society lady.

Peggy Nafziger, Betty Lou, tells her worries to Bernie, Yolanda Rodriguez, her secretary.

Pancake Supper

Among the money-making projects sponsored by the seniors was a pancake supper in the school cafeteria.

Jan Kauffman, Ruth Ann Nafziger, DeeAnna Figy, Eddie Miller, Ralph Nafziger, and Miriam Baer work in the kitchen during the supper.

Miss Ruth K. Wyse enjoys the pancakes prepared by the senior class.

Graduation 1963

Several senior boys adjust their caps and gowns before the Commencement processional begins. They are Marlin Klopfenstein, Byron Dimon, Carlos Grieser, Bob Sauder, Jim Sauder, Lynn Rupp.

Some of the senior girls primp before the Commencement processional. Caught by the photographer are Janice Kauffman, Joyce Graber, Yolanda Rodriguez, DeeAnna Figy, Roslyn Short, Donna Pfund, Miriam Baer.

THIRD ROW: Roslyn Short, John Ruetz, Ernestine Cortez, Edward Miller, Peggy Nafziger, Efrain Estrada, Yolanda Rodriguez, Carlos Grieser, Rebecca Nofziger, Arthur Ray.

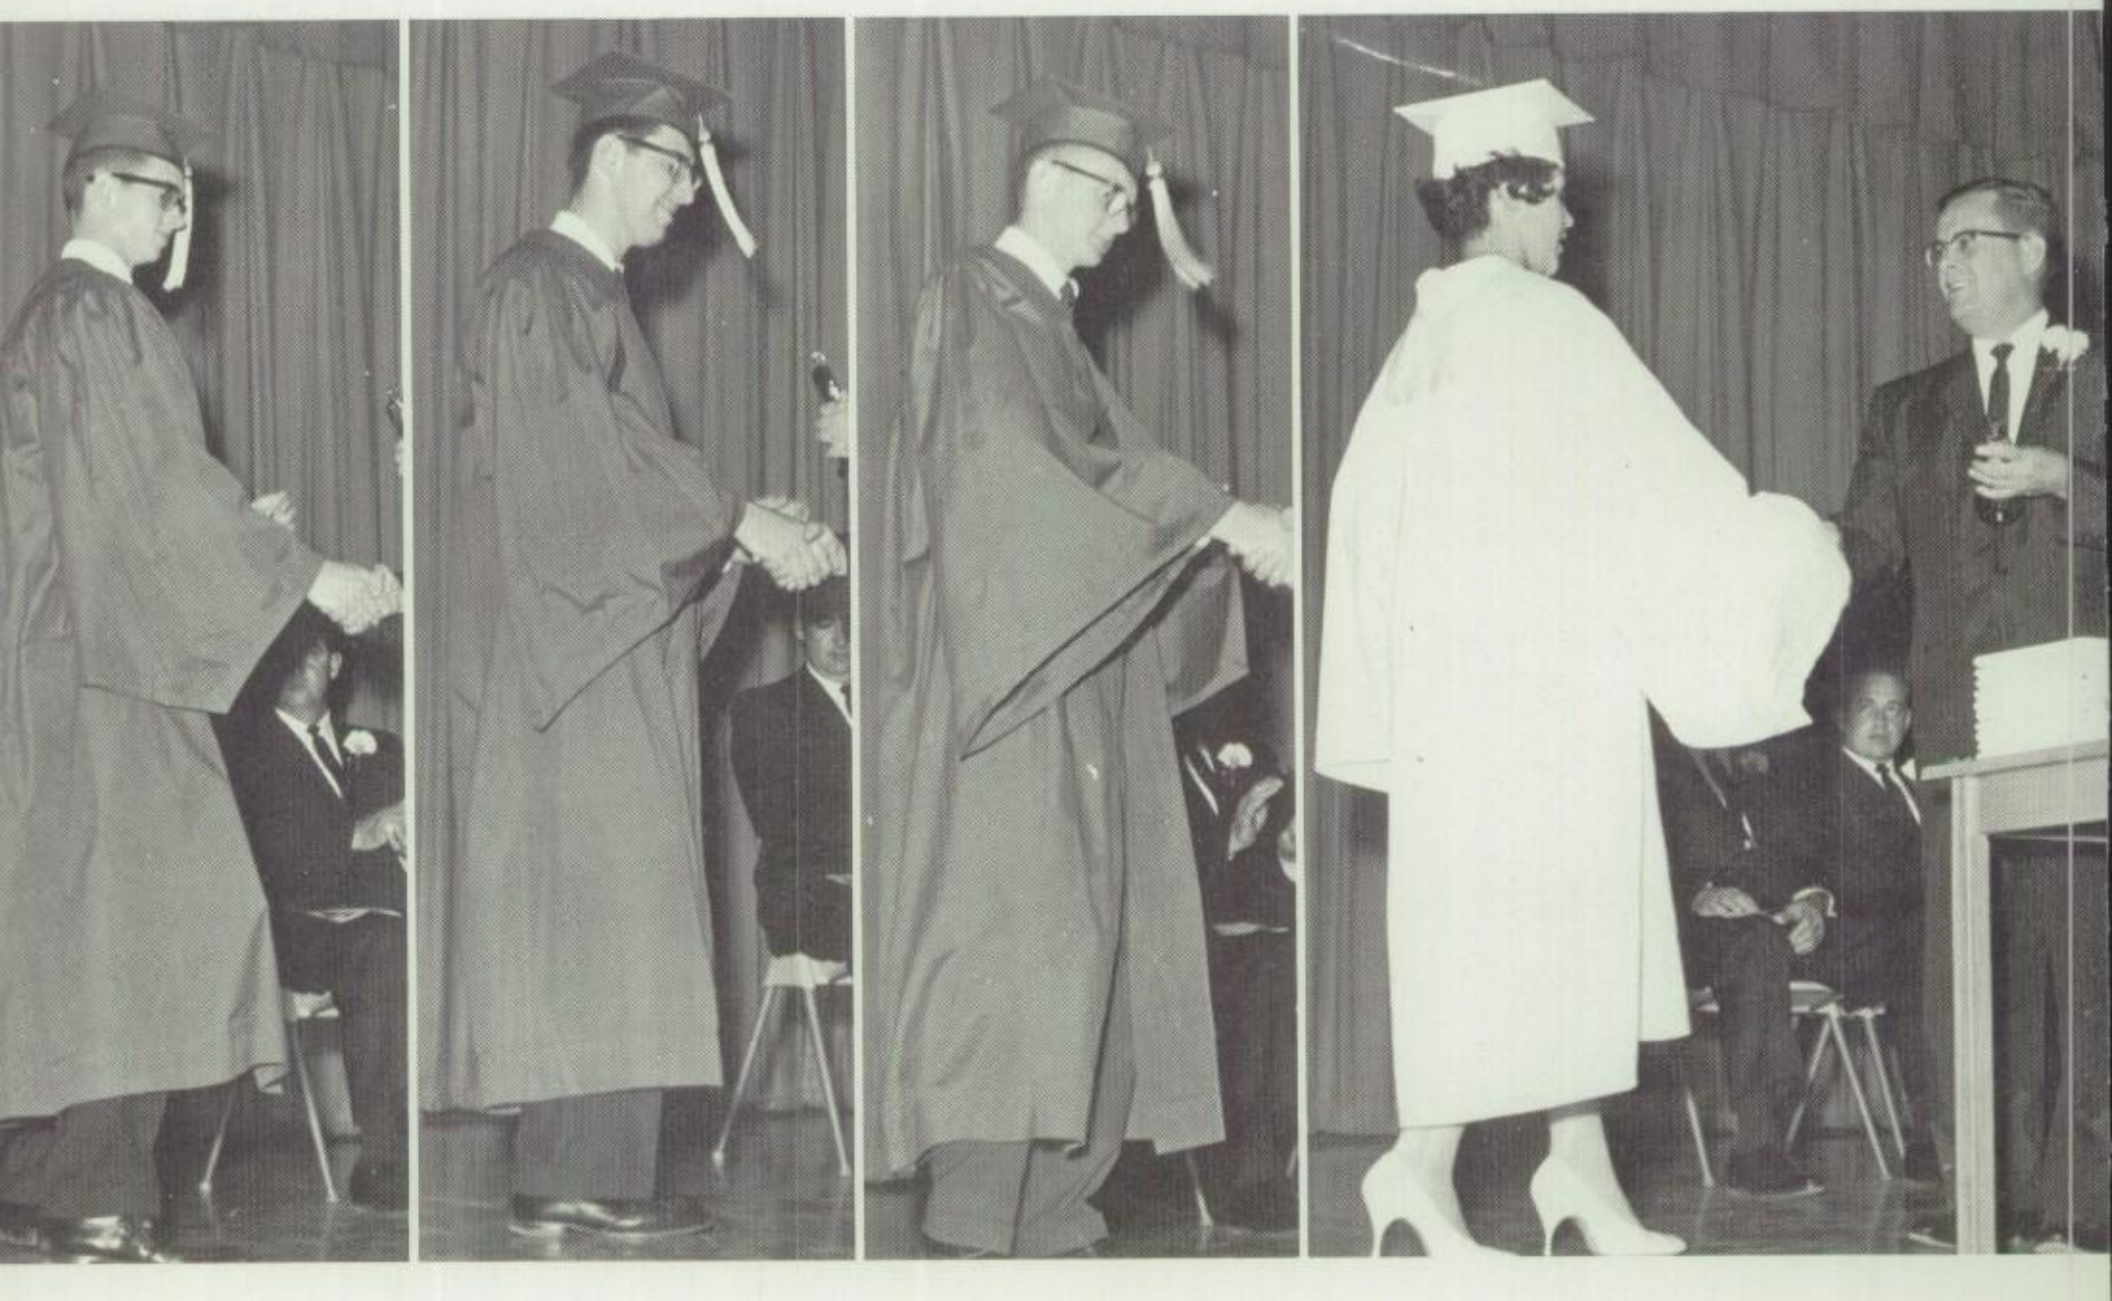
Terry Nofziger, Lynn Rupp, Paul Frey, and Joyce Graber receive the Scholastic Achievement Award from Prin. Mark Ray. To receive this award a student must have a B+ average or better.

The class of 1963 was important to the history of Pettisville schools. It had its share of outstanding students.

Paul Frey was the first student in this area to become a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Arthur Ray was an accomplished drummer. He usually received superior ratings in the contests he entered.

Three boys from this class were on the basketball team that went farther in tournament play than any other Pettisville team. They were Terry Nofziger, Byron Dimon, and Max Weber.



Although not the largest in number, this class could still change tradition. They held their Baccalaureate and Commencement services on the same day, May 26. Having Commencement on a Sunday was another innovation. This group followed the precedent set by the class of 1962 in having no outside Commencement speaker. They chose Paul Frey, Joyce Graber, and Terry Nofziger to speak for the class.

The Baccalaureate speaker was Rev. Daniel Ankerberg, youth leader. He spoke on Youth--Adrift or Alert.

Seated on the platform at Commencement are President of the Board Dale Beck, Rev. Charles Gautsche, Rev. Roy Sauder (hidden), County Supt. Howard Pfost, and Prin. Mark Ray.

Arthur Ray receives the Citizenship Award from Prin. Mark Ray. This is prized as the top award to be given to a senior.

Seniors Janice Kauffman, Arthur Ray, DeeAnna Figy, and Bill Stewart examine the bulletin board arranged in the lobby by the class sponsor, Mrs. Thelma Rychener. The class motto is pictured on the board. The class colors were royal purple and white. This color scheme was carried out in the caps and gowns of the thirty graduating seniors.

Thirty seniors and Mr. and Mrs. Dencil Miller spent six days in Washington D.C. and New York. The trip was highlighted by the parade honoring Astronaut Gordon Cooper. Other sights of interest included a tour of the White House, and the Wax Museum in Washington D.C., Radio City Music Hall, and United Nations Building in New York. Here the group poses in front of the Capitol Building.

Heads of Lariat Staffs

The Lariat staff is only a representative of the many high school organizations. Organizations are important in high school because they help balance an education. Many prepare students for future careers, others encourage them to work for higher goals.

On the opposite page part of the Lariat staff pose as if busy.

ORGANIZATIONS VARY IN INTEREST

The typing staff--Marie Lopez, Susan King, and Ruth Liechty, did most of the typing, as well as other jobs.

Lariat

The 1963 Lariat was put out by a group of twenty students and their adviser, Miss Ruth K. Wyse. Miriam Baer served as editor.

This group worked after school on Thursdays and all day for several weeks in the summer.

Pam Rupp and Judy Schmitz joined the staff after pictures were taken.

Dick and Dee's Studio, Pettisville, took many pictures for the Lariat.

The general Lariat staff did a little of everything--helping take pictures, identifying people, writing copy cropping pictures, entering names in the index, and other jobs that may seem small, but take quite a bit of time and effort.

Board of Publications

The Board of Publications, which controls both Lariat and Pet Echoes, met once a month to discuss problems concerning these publications. This year the Board's main purpose was recruiting new members for the Lariat staff.

STANDING: Mr. Arthur Grafton, Mrs. Geraldine Hoit, Mr. Richard Selgo, advisers, Dallas Rychener, Alan Rupp, vice-chairman, Larry Rupp, Paul Frey, chairman. SEATED: Ruth Ann Nafziger, secretary, Miriam Baer, Susan King, Miss Ruth K. Wyse, adviser.

Pet Echoes

The Pet Echoes was put out by a small staff of nine students and their adviser, Miss Ruth K. Wyse. Instead of having an editor for the whole year, this job was assigned each week. The staff worked Monday evenings to prepare the paper for delivery on Tuesday.

Writing copy, cutting headlines on the mimeoscope, and running the stencils for the finished pages complete the main steps of publishing Pet Echoes.

Meditation Committee

The Meditation Committee, a newly-formed group this year, was responsible for a "thought for the day" given the first thing every morning. It also scheduled several programs for the entire student body. Mrs. Thelma Rychener and Mr. Richard Selgo were the committee advisers.

Future Teachers of America

Bob Sauder served as president of the FTA. Vice-president was Gloria Wagler. Jackie Weber was secretary and Alan Rupp was treasurer. Each member received a membership pin this year for the first time. The students often had teaching practice by substituting for elementary teachers. Mr. Danford Sander was sponsor.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America took their annual trip to Lasalle's in Toledo and toured the advertising, fabric, alteration, and decorating departments. at one of the monthly meetings the FHA members saw slides and heard a tape recording concerning the work of a Lebanon teacher. The state FHA sponsors this project.

The annual FHA and FFA joint meeting was highlighted by a taffy pull. The sponsor of the FHA was Mrs. Rosemary Lind.

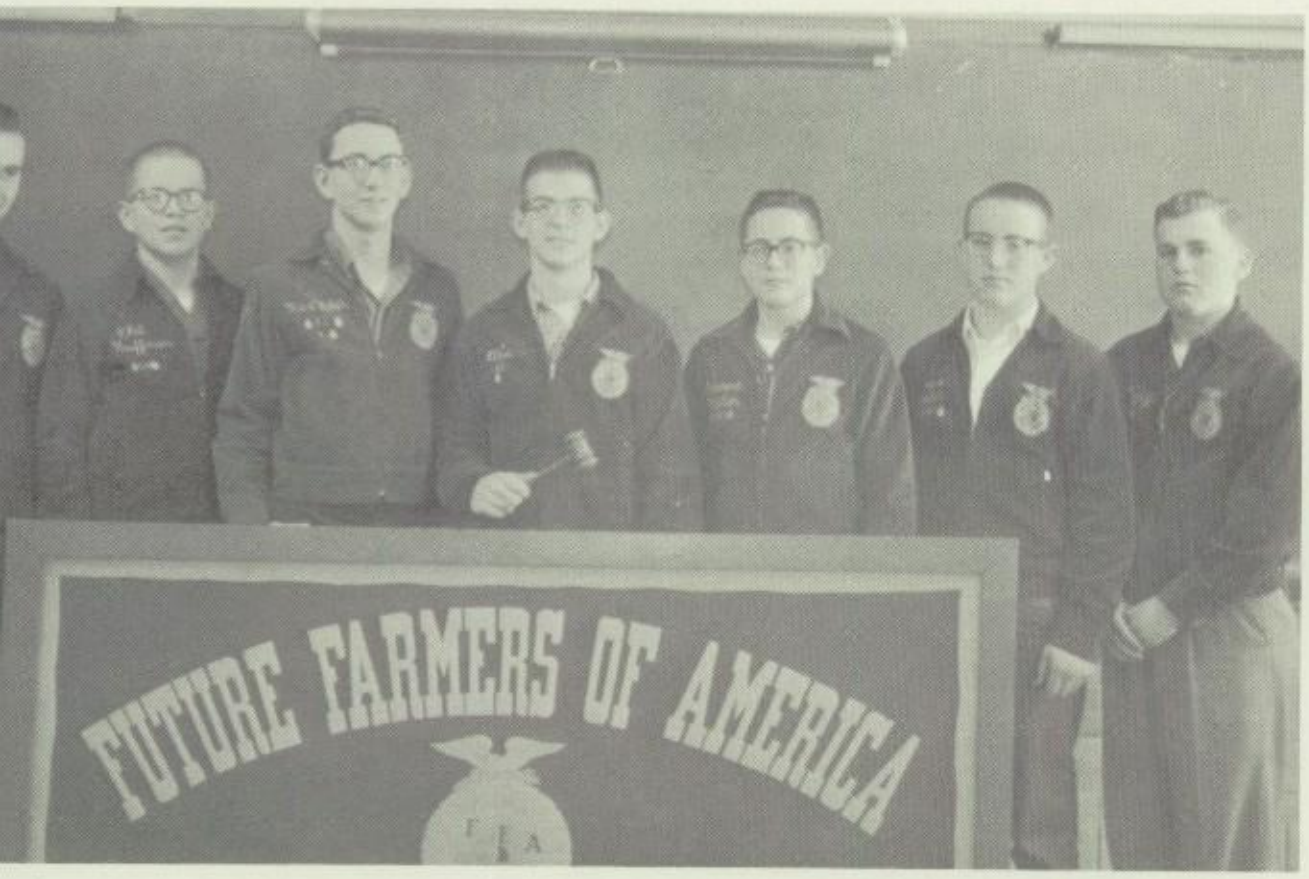
The girls had a meeting every third Tuesday evening of the month in the school gymnasium, where they played such games as basketball, softball, and volleyball.

Diane Seiler, president; Glora Belle Rychener, treasurer; Mrs. Roberta Mayer, sponsor.



Future Farmers of America

Larry Hartman, sentinel; Phil Kauffman, reporter; Max Weber, vice-president; Marlin Klopfenstein, president; Ed Miller, secretary; Duane Sauder, treasurer; and Richard Nafziger, student adviser, were selected to be the 1962-63 officers of the Future Farmers of America.

The FFA parliamentary procedure team rated gold in the county contest. They also had a record-breaking sale of Christmas cards.

They contributed to the Christian Oversea's program and sent a donation to the Foster Parents' Plan. As usual they helped with the State FFA project, which was to support a teacher of vocational agriculture in the Akkar area of Northern Lebanon.

The sponsor of FFA was Mr. William Minner, who completed his seventh year.

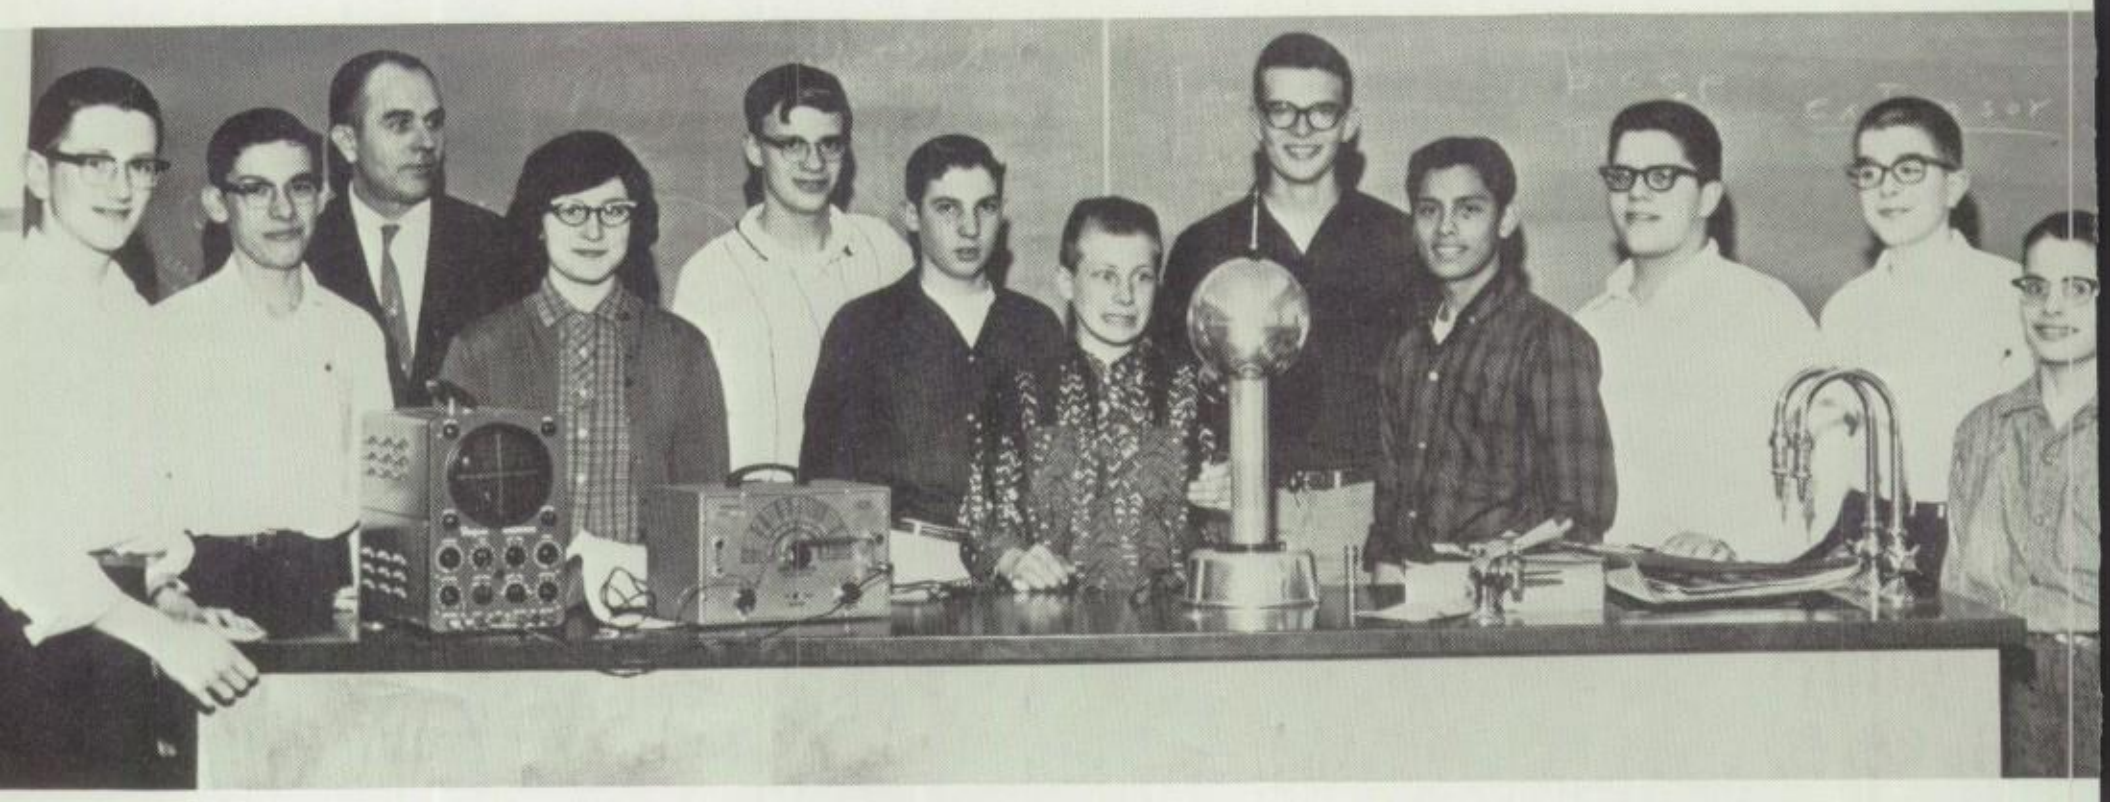
Don Kauffman and Richard Nafziger give a piglet a shot.

Parents and teachers of FFA boys enjoy the biennial banquet held in April in the school cafeteria. Former Sweethearts Margaret Short Nofziger and Becky Nofziger received recognition at this time.

Diane Seiler was chosen FFA Sweetheart for 1962-63. She was crowned by her predecessor, Becky Nofziger, at the banquet and was given a Sweetheart jacket by the FFA.



Mike Rychener, Mike Roth, Mr. Winfield Jones, sponsor, Kristen Lantz, Delbert King, Jim King, Allen Smith, Jerry Frey, Santos Rodriguez, John Hartman, Bart Jones, Keith Miller.

Science Club

One of the requirements of being a Science Club member was to choose and develop a project. At the beginning of the school year this club, the president of which was Mike Rychener, joined the national organization, Future Scientists of America, from which the members obtained literature and information about various projects. The sponsor was Mr. Winfield Jones.

Tri-P's

The Tri-P's took and developed pictures for the Lariat. They took pictures of the queen and her court before the homecoming for the area newspapers. The club members also took colored pictures of the queen and her court at the homecoming ceremony and sold them to interested persons. The president of the Tri-P's was Art Ray; the sponsor, Mr. Winfield Jones.

Parent-Teachers' Organization

This year the Parent-Teachers' organization used the theme, Education around the World, as the basis for their programs. The first meeting was devoted to a discussion concerning a proposed reorganization of county school districts. The teachers were also introduced. Two foreign students from Bowling Green State University gave talks about education in their own countries at the second meeting. Miss Ruth K. Wyse spoke and showed slides of her around-the-world trip in another interesting meeting. The Sweet Adelines from Bryan featured musical entertainment at the fourth meeting. At the last meeting, scholarship and attendance certificates were awarded to deserving students.

Mrs. Clyde Rice, treasurer; Mrs. Wesley Liechty, secretary; Vernon Graber, president; Ivan Nafziger, vice-president. Mrs. Marvin S. Wyse, who was absent when the picture was taken, served as second vice-president.

Adult English Class

A civic-minded project was conceived and carried out by Mrs. Florence Porter--that of forming a class in English for Spanish-speaking adults of this area. Approximately fifteen people responded to the invitation to join such a class. In the summer the group met at the home of Mrs. Porter. During the year, facilities of the school were opened to the group, which met in a classroom for the remainder of the year. Considerable progress in the speaking and writing of English was made by the group.

Senior Choir

Boys' Glee

The boys' glee club performed at school and church concerts. It received a superior rating at both the district and state contests.

The senior choir again gave many church and school concerts. At district contest in Bowling Green, it received a superior rating. In Columbus, at state contest, it won an excellent rating. Miss Grace Cron directs this group.

The girls' glee club performed at school concerts and at district contest, where it received an excellent rating.

Band

The MUSIC BOOSTERS aided music groups in many ways this year. They bought new summer uniforms for the band. They also chartered buses to send the choir and boys' glee club to state contest in Columbus. The officers of the group were Mrs. Marvin S. Wyse, president; Mrs. Olen Genter, vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Stuckey, secretary-treasurer.

The band, under the direction of Miss Grace Cron, had a busy year. The concert band performed at most school concerts. It received an excellent rating at district competition. The marching band, composed of members from the concert band, played for community functions during the summer.

Senior Boys' Octet

The senior boys' octet was one of the outstanding musical groups of the year. Not only did the boys appear at various local events, but they were in demand in outlying areas. Max Weber, Lynn Rupp, Paul Frey, Terry Nofziger, Jim Sauder, Marlin Klopfenstein, Bob Sauder, Art Ray.

Majorettes

The majorettes--Mary Sue Rupp, Jean Ann Rupp, Jane D. Rupp, and Diane Seiler--played instruments in the concert band and twirled in the marching band.

The octet composed of six sophomores and two freshmen was the only vocal group eligible for state competition this year. It rated superior. These boys also sang at many public functions. John Nofziger, George Liechty, Larry Rupp, Jerry Frey, Phil Moden, John Hartman, Allen Smith, David Rupp.

Junior Choir

The primary purpose of the junior choir is the beginning of training junior high students to sing in a group. This rather than public appearance was emphasized. This junior group however, did sing at each of the three school concerts.

Instrumentalists

ART RAY continued to distinguish himself on the drums this year. He rated superior at state for the third time.

ALLEN SMITH played trumpet in the band and pep band. He also played a solo in district contest, at which he received a superior rating.

THE CORNET TRIO, which is made up of Eric Rupp, David Rupp, and Mike Rychener, received an excellent rating at state contest. This rating was a proof of the stiffness of stage judging. These boys, who up to this year were not eligible for state contest, had been recieving top ratings in district competition. This group has been playing together for four years. ERIC RUPP rated superior for his cornet solo at state. He is a versatile musician, for he also plays the piano and the organ. Again stiff judging cut his rating in district piano competition to excellent.

Rebecca Nofziger reigned as Queen of Hearts at the 1963 Homecoming game with Lyons. Terry Nofziger, varsity basketball captain, crowned and escorted Becky to the throne. Attending her royal highness were Doreen Lantz, Joyce Graber, Mary Helen Liechty, and Sue Ann Ray.

Scattering petals in the path of the queen was little Jenny Lawrence escorted by Jimmy Selgo, crown bearer.

Homecoming

Queen Becky's escort was varsity basketball captain, Terry Nofziger, a senior.

Joyce Graber was escorted by Max Weber. Both are seniors.

Byron Dimon was Mary Helen Liechty's escort. Byron is a senior and Mary Helen, a junior.

Verlyn Nofziger, a junior, escorted Doreen Lantz, also a junior.

George Liechty was Sue Ann Ray's escort. George and Sue Ann are both sophomores.

Much preparation has to be made for a successful homecoming ceremony. Here final touches have been made to Jenny Lawrence and Becky Nofziger before the coronation.

The youngest attendants were Jenny Lawrence, flower girl, and Jimmy Selgo, crown bearer, both kindergarteners.

The homecoming attendants and queen take their last glimpses of themselves in the mirror. They are Mary Helen Liechty, Doreen Lantz, Sue Ann Ray, Joyce Graber, and Becky Nofziger.

Doreen Lantz, Sue Ann Ray, Becky Nofziger, and Joyce Graber are ready and nervously waiting.

Basketball Trophies 1963

The line-up of trophies represents the successful basketball season of this year. Other sports groups also fulfilled their purposes--having a good time, cooperating with others, and learning how to play various games.

SPORTS ADD ZIP TO SCHOOL LIFE

Two new attractions were introduced during the basketball season. The first was a huge banner hung in the gymnasium by the Boosters. Prior to the game at Lima, the official Blackbird mascot made its debut in the person of Jill Lawrence. The Pep Band also helped spark the team on to victory.

The girls who kept the enthusiasm of the crowd up and were sometimes hoarse the next day because of it are Becky Nofziger, Joyce Graber, Doreen Lantz, Sue Ann Ray.

Verlyn Nofziger, left, displays his jump shot. Verlyn, a guard, was a scrappy hustler on defense and offense. His two-handed set shot frequently broke up his opponents' zone defense and morale.

Coach Miller gets one of his frequent trips to the shower. This one, climaxing the district title victory from Payne, is carried out by Max Weber, Dallas Rychener, Roger Bunke, Max Rufenacht and Terry Nofziger, both half hidden, Verlyn Nofziger, Byron Dimon, and George Liechty.

Capt. Terry Nofziger, right, was awarded the trophies as the most valuable player and best foul shooter. His calm and determined play helped rank him as one of the best players in Ohio.

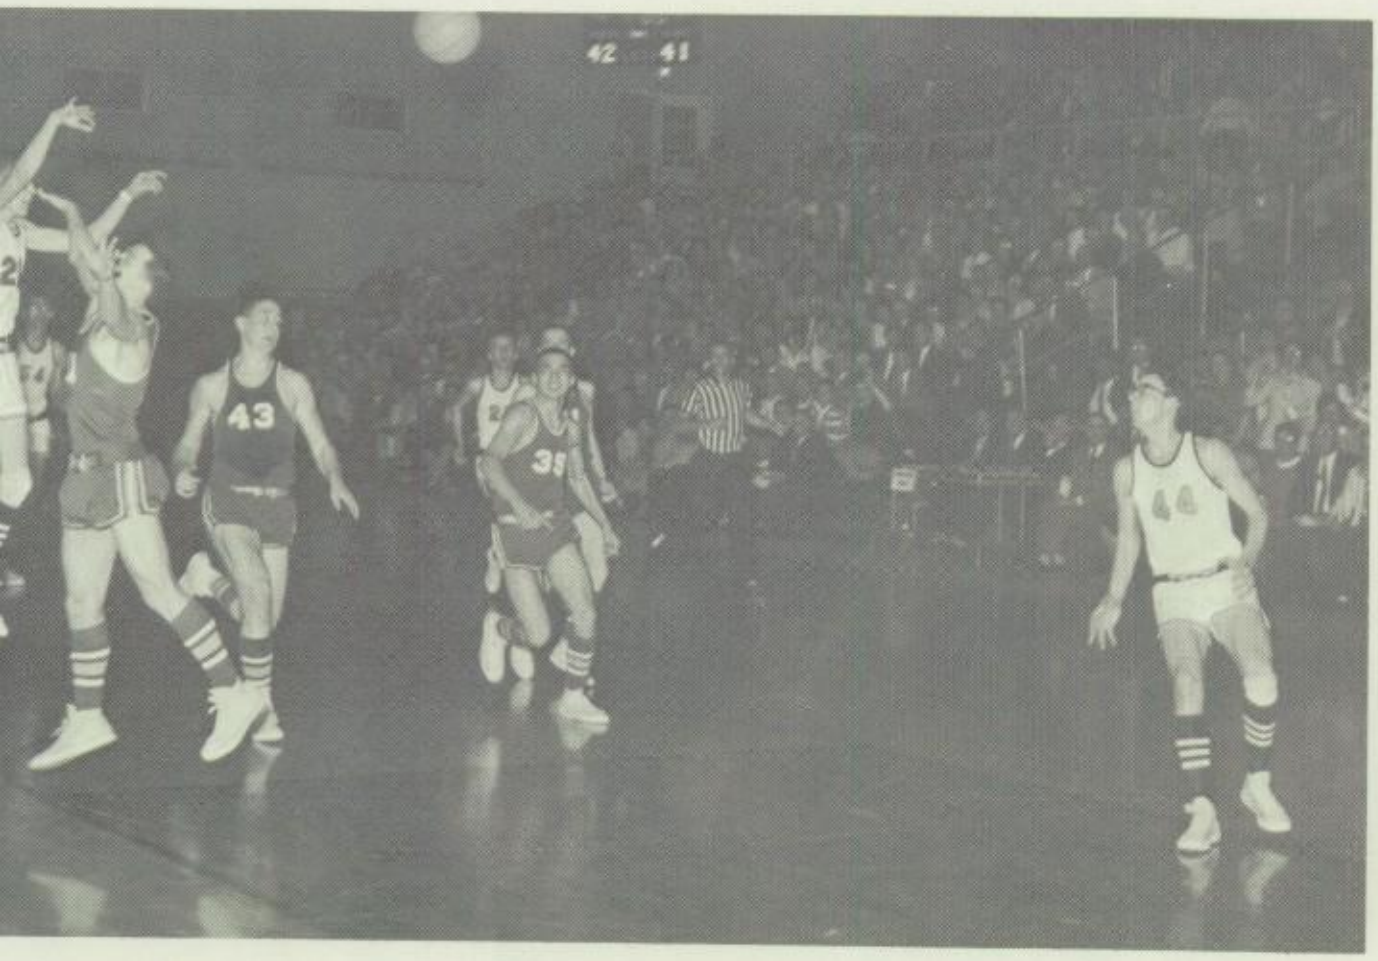
Max Weber, a senior who played forward, prepares to shoot a foul, above left. Although his season-scoring average was not exceptionally high, Max was able to run up the score with a good corner shot. This was proved over and over in tournament action this spring.

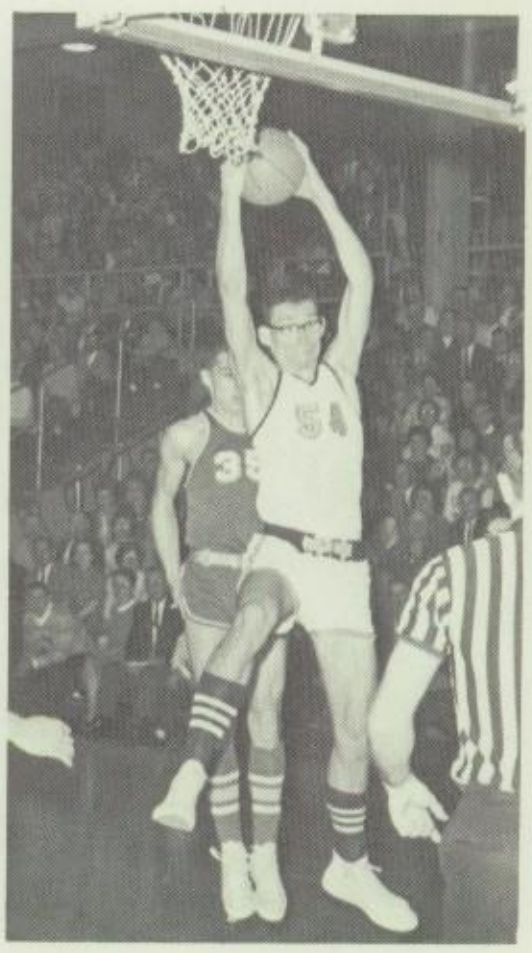
"Better watch this one, fellows," says Verlyn Nofziger, number 22, as his teammates, Byron Dimon, number 54, and Larry Rupp, number 20, close in for the rebound. This shot caught one of the exciting moments of regional tournament play. Above.

George Liechty, a husky sophomore, started at guard position. He was able to drive hard, as shown here, and he could also swish the nets from way out. Besides this, he got a lot of rebounds for a guard. Above, right.

Ready and waiting is Max Weber, number 44, as Verlyn Nofziger leaps and fires the ball. This action, pictured below, took place at Lima during the Blackbirds' final game against York. Even though it was a losing cause, the team went down fighting. Coach Dencil Miller has much to be proud of in the best basketball season PHS has ever had.

Byron Dimon, 6'9", the tallest basketball center to play at PHS, shows how important his height was to the team this year. With his right- and left-hand jump shots, plus his dipper-dunk special, he was a threat to every foe. Byron was awarded the trophy for most improved player. A new member of the senior class, he had not previously played interscholastic basketball. His development was due to his determination and to good coaching.





Booster Club

The Boosters Club did much to promote a successful basketball season. They were in charge of refreshments during the games, which fact was greatly appreciated by the fans. They also stimulated interest in the student body with posters, including the large Blackbird banner in the gym. The club was led by Pres. Janice Kauffman, who received the award for the outstanding senior Booster.

Reserve Team

Although the Reserve team did not have a successful season, winning only three of eighteen games, they gained a vast amount of experience, which should benefit them next year. Even though they lost most of their games, they still enjoyed playing, one of the main reasons for sports. The team started the year under the direction of Coach Miller, but in midseason, Coach Selgo took over.

Tom Miller, manager, Allen Smith, Eric Rupp, Dave Frey, Dean Schmucker, Coach Richard Selgo, Roger Nafziger, V. J. Andrews, Don Blosser, Bob Wagler, Chuck Rychener, Dave Rupp.

The Freshman team, behind the coaching of Richard Selgo, compiled a season's record of five wins and eleven losses. However, if practice makes perfect, these boys should be hard to beat in a year or two. They had practice nearly every afternoon after school, except when they had games, which were also played after dismissal. These boys picked up valuable knowledge and experience, which they will need next year, as they battle for positions on Reserve.

Freshman Team

These four girls, who gained experience in cheering, are, clockwise from top, Sherry Schnitkey, Pam Rupp, Beth Ann Rupp, and Judy Schmitz. Although sometimes they did not have much of a crowd to work with, they always let the team know that they were there.

Reserve Cheerleaders

The Reserve cheerleaders followed their team through thick and thin, this year, even though it was mostly thin. These are three of the reasons why the Reserve boys continued to show up for their games. They are Diane Seiler, Dorothy Andre, Jean Ann Rupp.

Eighth Grade Team

Luana Wyse, Kim Dimon, Jane D. Rupp, Mary Sue Rupp.

Both the seventh and eighth grade teams had winning seasons overall. For the seventh grade it was the first year of interscholastic sports and the first stepping stone to varsity. These two teams were coached by Mr. Thomas Waters, who left for the Air Force before the pictures were taken.

The boys were supported from the sidelines by the cheerleaders, who usually found themselves to be the whole cheering section.

Eddie Waidelich, manager, Tom Wagler, Simon Cerda, Roger Weber, Keith Hull, Zeno Miller, Chris Rychener, Oscar Ramos, Philip Avina. Lonnie Rychener, absent.

Seventh Grade Team

Sixth Grade

For the first time, fourth, fifth, and sixth grade teams were formed here. All three teams were coached by Mr. Richard Selgo. The sixth grade played several area teams, including Archbold, Fayette, and Wauseon.

Fifth Grade

The fourth and fifth grades combined to organize a traveling team of their own. They usually went with the sixth grade and played the first game. They also battled before the fans between the reserve and varsity games.

It was a thrill for the fans as well as the Junior Blackbirds.

Dwight Smith, Dick Selgo, Ronnie Gerig, Jerry Reinking, John Moden, Ronald Roth, Coach Selgo, Max Wyse, Curt Wagler, Allen Lantz, Tim Huber, Eddie Nafziger.

Fourth Grade

The fourth grade was the youngest age group to participate in this new venture. Although it was sometimes all they could do to get the ball as high as the basket, the experience and fundamentals that they learned will be of great help to them in the future.

Baseball

The baseball team experienced a mediocre season this year. However, with the loss of only four seniors, greater things are expected from the maturing squad. An innovation was the forming of a reserve squad, which played a few games and got the feel of competition.

The main attractions of the intramural program were the boys' and girls' basketball tournaments. The victors were the junior boys, breaking the monotony of senior domination, and the senior girls.

Intramurals

School Starts on the Bus

To the students the first line of service is the bus drivers. When children enter the buses, they actually begin the school day. An efficient corp of drivers man the local buses. All but one appear in the picture. It is Mrs. Donarose Lantz, who also operates the kindergarten bus at noon. Since she was taking courses at the Bryan branch of BGSU, a substitute drove for her on the afternoons she had classes. The picture was taken on one of those days.

The other drivers are Dale Gautsche, Dwight Porter, Mrs. Dorothy Rychener, Mrs. Laura Rychener, Wayne Zaerr, Herbert Short, Rev. Charles Kauffman.

SERVICE BEGINS WITH BUS DRIVERS

Custodians

Of vital need to a school is an efficient service corps. Without such a group a school plant would soon deteriorate, for doubtless a school receives harder usage than any other public building; thus it needs constant attention.

Such a staff of workers is the good fortune of Pettisville schools to possess. At the head of the staff of custodians is William Lantz, Jr., chief engineer. Mr. Lantz followed in the steps of his father, William, Sr., who served the school faithfully for many years; and who, since his retirement, still occasionally returns to help out.

It is the duty of Mr. Lantz to see that the physical plant of the school is kept clean and in running order. He also serves as a substitute bus driver.

Maynard Burkholder is the engineer's right-hand worker. The picture indicates that he is the fix-it man. He is repairing a chair on which somebody apparently sat down too hard. He also helps with many other odd jobs at the school during the school year and in the summer, so everything is spic and span when the students return.

Mrs. Mabel Burkholder, a custodian and the wife of Maynard Burkholder, poses here with her two younger children, Neal and Rise. The children usually remain after school to "help" their mother with the cleaning.

Mrs. Augusta Plassman is caught at her nightly job of sweeping in the science wing of the high school--room 228, to be exact.

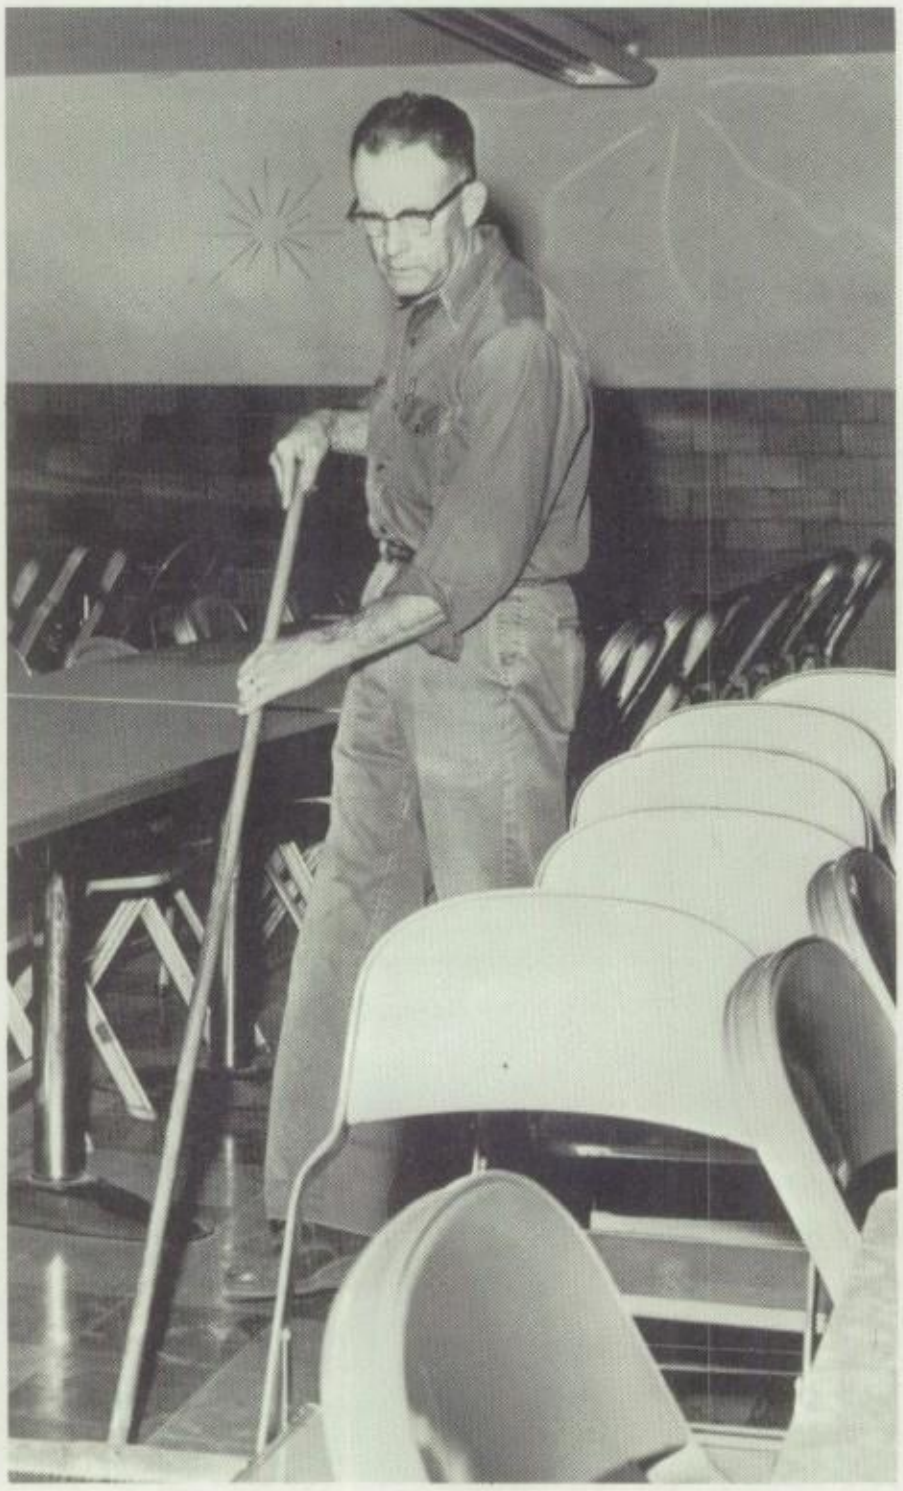
Mrs. Helen Rychener, another member of the custodian staff, scours the sink of an elementary classroom, the area in which she usually works.

Four busy cooks stop just long enough to have their picture taken before preparing another much-appreciated meal. They are Mrs. Estella Disbrow, Miss Marie Drennan, head cook, Mrs. Mary Taylor, and Mrs. Viola Sauder.

Among Mr. Dwight Porter's duties is cleaning the cafeteria as well as the old part of the second floor of the high school building, In addition, he drives a school bus and does most of the mowing of the school grounds.

Mrs. Bueta Rupp and Mrs. Florence Augustine begin to serve the noon meal.

Cafeteria Workers



Patrons Are Appreciated

It would be impossible for Pettisville High to publish a yearbook were it not for the assistance given to the book by local and area advertisers and patrons. The costs of producing such a book are so great that sales could not cover them without an exhorbitant price being charged for each copy. It is hoped that the readers of this book will partonize the firms whose contributions have made the 1963 Lariat possible.

One of the most generous patrons of Pettisville Schools for years has been the Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Archbold. The bank has been a consistent patron of the Lariat and a contributor to other departments of the school.
